UM STUDENTS WIN JANE BUTTREY MEMORIAL SCHOLARSHIPS

MISSOULA --

Seven University of Montana students have won $1,140 Jane Buttrey Memorial Scholarships for 1990-91.

The scholarships, funded by the Jane Buttrey Memorial Foundation and administered by UM's Honors Program, go to humanities or social sciences majors with at least a 3.3 grade-point average. The students, who must have financial need and be juniors in the next academic year, also must submit a letter of recommendation from a faculty member and an essay on their academic background and goals.

Two winners hail from Billings: Christopher James Arthun, a philosophy major, and Jason Taylor, a philosophy and classics major.

The other recipients are Francesca Adriana Fulop, a political science, pre-law and honors major from Missoula; Jackie Johnson, an English, education and psychology major from Hamilton; Jennifer Van Hyning, a German major from Great Falls; Kaia Lynn Lenhart, a political science and Soviet studies major from Glendive; and Patricia L. Ritzdorf, a psychology major from Shelby.
